Dear St. Philip Neri Families & Friends

We give praise and thanks to God for the graces He has given us. Today, we have before us two powerful passages from Scripture – Romans 8:26-27 and Matthew 13:24-43. These readings offer us profound insights into the Christian life, revealing the strength we find in the Holy Spirit amidst the challenges and the coexistence of good and evil in our world. Let us reflect upon these verses and seek to deepen our understanding of how the Spirit sustains us and guides us in our journey as disciples of Christ. In the Gospel of Matthew, Jesus shares with us the Parable of the Weeds and the Wheat. He uses this parable to illustrate the reality of the world we live in – a world where good and evil coexist, both within and outside the Church. Just as the farmer sowed good seed in his field, symbolizing the spread of the Gospel and the establishment of God's kingdom, an enemy sowed weeds among the wheat, representing those who oppose the truth and seek to undermine the work of God. The parable reminds us that the presence of evil in the world can be disheartening and confusing. We may question why God allows it to exist.

However, Jesus teaches us that God is patient and merciful. He allows the wheat and the weeds to grow together until the harvest, giving everyone the opportunity to repent and turn away from sin. The final judgement, represented by the harvest, will separate the righteous from the evildoers, ensuring that justice prevails in the end. The Parable of the Weeds and the Wheat reminds us of the importance of discernment and patience. We are called to live virtuous and holy lives, bearing witness to the truth amidst a world tainted by sin and falsehood. Rather than being consumed by our desire to uproot the weeds ourselves, we must trust in God's providence and focus on cultivating the wheat within us, growing in faith, love, and virtue. And it is precisely in this journey of cultivating the wheat within us that we find strength in the Holy Spirit, as highlighted in the passage from Romans. The Apostle Paul reminds us that in our weakness, the Spirit comes to our aid. There are times when we face challenges that surpass our understanding and abilities, leaving us at a loss for words and uncertain about how to pray. In those moments, the Spirit intercedes for us with groanings too deep for words, aligning our prayers with the will of God. The Holy Spirit is our advocate, helper, and comforter. He dwells within us, guiding us, strengthening us, and transforming us. It is through the power of the Holy Spirit that we can navigate the complexities of life, overcome our weakness, and find the courage to live as disciples of Christ amidst the weeds of this world. As we reflect on these passages today, let us be encouraged and strengthened by the presence of the Holy Spirit in our lives. The Spirit empowers us to live virtuously, to persevere in faith, and to bear witness to the truth. Let us cultivate the wheat within us, relying on the guidance and intercession of the Holy Spirit, even when faced with the challenges and temptations of this world.

Please invite someone to Mass today.

St. Philip Neri, pray for us.

Please pray for me, have a blessed week!

Your baby is quite active in the womb now...although the mother won't feel him for another couple of months. He is breathing amniotic fluid which continues until birth, although he obtains oxygen his body needs through the umbilical cord. The baby you are praying for weighs one ounce. Early this month, at just 9 weeks, he began to suck his thumb.
