Dear St. Philip Neri families & friends, we give praise and thanks to God for the graces He has given us! Last Sunday was the feast day of King Saint Louis IX of France, he serves as an ideal role model and intercessor for fathers today. St. Louis exemplified the Christian ideal of serving God with all one's heart, mind, and soul. One of the great treasures that remains from this saint of Holy Mother Church is his beautiful and moving letter of fatherly advice, written to his first-born son (and eventual successor) Philip III. Below are selected excerpts from the complete 36 paragraph original drafted by St. Louis. His advice to his son is advice we can all benefit from today, especially for our children.

Saint Louis' advice to his son.

Dear son, since I desire with all my heart that you be well "instructed in all things", it is in my thought to give you some advice this writing. For I have heard you say, several times, that you remember my words better than those of anyone else. Therefore, dear son, the first thing I advise is that you fix your whole heart upon God, and love Him with all your strength, for without this no one can be saved or be of any worth. You should, with all your strength, shun everything which you believe to be displeasing to Him. And you ought especially to be resolved not to commit mortal sin, no matter what may happen and should permit all your limbs to be hewn off, and suffer every manner of torment, rather than fall knowingly into mortal sin. If our Lord sends you prosperity, either health of body or other things you ought to thank Him humbly for it, and you ought to be careful that you are not the worse for it, either through pride or anything else, for it is a very great sin to fight against our Lord with His gifts. Dear son, I advise you that you accustom yourself to frequent confession, and that you choose always, as your confessors, men who are upright and sufficiently learned, and who can teach you what you should do and what you should avoid. You should so carry yourself that your confessors and other friends may dare confidently to reprove you and show you your faults. Dear son, I advise you that you listen willingly and devoutly the services of Holy Church, and, when you are in church, avoid to frivolity and trifling, and do not look here and there; but pray to God with lips and heart alike, while entertaining sweet thoughts about Him, and especially at the Mass, when the Body and Blood of our Lord Jesus Christ are consecrated, and for a little time before. Son, have a tender pitiful heart for the poor, and for all those whom you believe to be in misery of heart or body, and, according to your ability, comfort and aid them with some alms. If you have any unrest of heart, of such a nature that it may be told, tell it to your confessor, or to some upright man who can keep your secret; you will be able to carry more easily the thought of your heart. Love all good, and hate all evil, in whomsoever it may be. Dear son, give thanks to God often for all the good things He has done for you, so that you may be worthy to receive more, in such a manner that if it please the Lord that you come to the burden and honor of governing the kingdom, you may be worthy to receive the sacred unction wherewith the kings of France are consecrated. Finally, most sweet son, I conjure and require you that, if it please our Lord that I should die before you, you have my soul succored with Masses and orisons (prayers), and that you send through the congregations of the kingdom of France, and demand their prayers for my soul, and that you grant me a special and full part in all the good deeds which you perform. In conclusion, dear son, I give you all the blessings which a good and tender father can give to a son, and I pray our Lord Jesus Christ, by His mercy, by the prayers and merits of His Blessed Mother, the Virgin Mary, and of angels and archangels and of all the saints, to guard and protect you from doing anything contrary to His will, and to give you grace to do it always, so that He may be honored and served by you. And this may He do to me as to you, by His great bounty, so that after this mortal life we may be able to be together in the eternal life, and see Him, love Him, and praise Him without end. Amen. And glory, honor, and praise be to Him who is one God with the Father and Holy Spirit; without beginning and without end. Amen

From St. Louis advise to his son, in medieval civilization, trans, and eds. Dana Munro and George Clarke Sellery (New York: The Century Company, 1910), pp 366-375.
 May God bless you all, please invite someone to Mass.
 St. Philip Neri, pray for us! Have a blessed week.
 Fr. Szparagowski
