Dear St. Philip Neri Family and Friends,

We give praise and thanks to God for His graces and blessings!

The longer I am a priest, the more I come to realize how many beautiful souls God has placed in my life. I have met so many people whom I believe, after peacefully falling asleep in the arms of Jesus, are now saints in heaven. Their lives were filled with kindness, generosity, faithfulness, and love. They may never have been recognized publicly, but they lived their lives with their hearts open to Jesus.

I believe there are saints living among us today. We can find them sitting in the pews next to us, in our homes, in our schools, and in our everyday encounters. They are the people who quietly care for others, who forgive when it is difficult, who give without expecting anything in return, and who allow Jesus to work through them. That is what a saint is: someone who allows the love of Jesus to shine through their life. On this Feast of All Saints, we are reminded that holiness is not reserved for a select few. All of us are called to become saints. We all want to go to heaven, don't we? That is our ultimate goal! And if we want to spend eternity with God, then we must strive to become saints. Sometimes we make holiness seem so difficult or unattainable. We imagine that becoming a saint requires doing extraordinary things every day. But sainthood begins with something much simpler: opening our hearts to Jesus, surrendering ourselves to Him, trusting Him even when life is difficult, and faithfully doing His will. It means allowing Him to love us, change us, and work through us. We become saints one prayer, one act of kindness, one sacrifice, and one act of love at a time. As we celebrate All Saints Day, we also look ahead to November 2, All Souls Day, when we remember and pray for all the faithful departed. We pray especially for those souls in purgatory who are being purified and prepared to enter the fullness of God's heavenly kingdom. They belong to God, and we entrust them to His infinite love and mercy as they await the joy of being welcomed into His beautiful heavenly paradise. Our prayers remind us that love does not end at death, and our communion in Christ unites us with those who have gone before us. I would also like to take this opportunity to thank all of you for your tremendous generosity to our parish. Our annual block collection is already ahead of where it was at this time last year, and that says so much about your love, charity, and care for our parish family. Please know how grateful I am. As I have mentioned before, I ask you not to think of our block collection simply in terms of buildings, roofs, or structures. This is our spiritual home. This is the home of our Father, the place where we encounter Jesus, receive His grace in the sacraments, grow in faith, and come together as one family. Our support makes it possible for us to continue Christ's mission: to go out into the world and proclaim the Gospel, sharing the good news that God loves us, cares for us, and never abandons us. My brothers and sisters, may we recognize the saints around us, pray for our beloved dead, and never lose sight of our own calling to holiness. May we continue building a parish family rooted in faith, generosity, and love, where others can encounter the living Christ through us. One day, may we too peacefully fall asleep in the arms of Jesus and hear Him welcome us home. Until that day, let us keep our hearts open to Him and strive, with His grace, to become the saints

He created us to be.

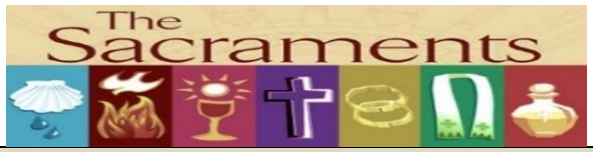

Saints of God, pray for us!

I pray for you every day, especially at Mass. Please pray for me.

Please invite someone to Mass today. St. Philip Neri, pray for us.

Have a blessed week,

November is the Month of the Holy Souls.
